Our Mission

CPI's mission is to provide a quality education for vulnerable youth in the small fishing village of Takoradi, Ghana, West Africa. The Amoa family, residents of Takoradi, and CPI formed an alliance to educate community youth, provide for basic needs of students, and provide skills training for employment opportunities after graduation.

Our Vision

Our vision is to enable youth in the village of Takoradi to become healthy, self-reliant adults and productive citizens within their society by preparing them through education and continued support. Our graduates will be counseled, monitored, and provided skills training to market for employment opportunities.

CPI Teams Up with the White House

CPI is now a Certifying Organization for the President's Volunteer Service Awards (PVSA) – a national program recognizing Americans who have demonstrated a sustained commitment to volunteer service.

Founder/CEO Alease Newman at CPI school in Takoradi, Ghana, West Africa.
